

Product Benefits

The eFusion product connects diverse content sources to search appliances, empowering you to search your ENTIRE enterprise. eFusion connectors are designed to be fast, flexible, and easy to install, configure and use.

PERFORMANCE Our robust connector technology is optimized to retrieve content quickly while minimizing the impact on networks and underlying content servers and providers.

FOCUS eFusion connectors are focused specifically on the enterprise search market and are explicitly tuned to appliance performance requirements and extended functionality.

CONFIGURABLE All eFusion connectors are designed to be easily configured. In addition, eFusion provides a fully customizable connector with a simple user configuration wizard.

SECURE eFusion understands the importance of maintaining your corporate security rules and policies. All enterprise security settings native to original content sources are enforced and applied to your search results.

TRANSPARENT eFusion supplies metrics which provide insight into content statistics and performance.

FLEXIBLE The ability to connect to multiple search appliances and content sources allows you to dynamically manage your enterprise as you grow and your requirements change.

CONTROL GUI based administration facilitates integration, connectivity, security management and server and network utilization.

CONTINUALLY UPDATED As search appliance features change and new versions of content interfaces are released, our connectors are updated continually to match the latest functionality and power.

RELIABLE eFusion connectors are rigorously tested against the latest search appliance and content management systems.

SUPPORT The eFusion product comes with on-line help documentation, technical support and optional custom integration services.

Powering Your Connectivity

The eFusion product is a unique, modular solution that enables clients to connect diverse content sources to various search appliances. Its key differentiator is the ease with which a client can set up and deploy a search appliance to index a data source. The eFusion product provides a user interface and connector wizard to quickly and consistently connect content sources to appliances, mitigating the need to spend weeks writing custom code. As most search appliances do not ship with pre-configured connectors, the eFusion product not only fills the upfront need of the client for easy and fast configurability, it also fills the ongoing need for supported, tested and continually updated enterprise-grade connectors.
